THE STORY OF A STILL HUNT

The Delicate Stroke of Political Diplomacy by Which the Bayard-Saulsbury Domain Was Converted to Republicanism.

New York, Nov. 10 .- The Times prints the following interesting story from Dover, Del .: One of the dantiest bits of political work that this land has ever had to celebrate is agitating Deleware, top, side and bottom just at present. True it is that Delaware is little enough to be acitated on small provocation, perhaps, but this text of agitation blazoned since last Tuesday is. in consequences, sufficient to agitate a bigger State. In fact, it is already stirring thirtyeight States. For Deleware has done what no Delawarean ever expected Delaware to do-done what even the jauntiest of rainbow chasers never dared expect her to do-thrown over in one day, and with no ado, Bayard dictation and Saulabury domination, all by calmly electing ing Republican majority ready to choose a Republican United States Senator. Delaware saves the Senate from a tie. Delaware gives the Senate of the Nation its political complexion. One week ago a prophecy of this would have been received with much the same sort of greeting that similar promises for Mississippi or Texas would have evoked. But yesterday official forms were completed that make it a fact. Returns have been canvassed, and Delaware Republicans are in readiness to possess themselves of the State-house forthwith. Delaware Republicans are as much surprised as any one eise can be, and that is saying something strong to people who may have chanced to have been in political groups in New York a couple of days ago, when a telegraphic message proclaimed the result. The wires between New York and here were hot for half a day, and interrogatories as excited as a cross-examination came piling into Dover and Wilmington from every quarter, and answering assurances that the State really was in line to elect a Republican Senator were so generally received with skepticism that, in abundant instances, the distant and anxious question-askers insisted on inquiring for the facts over again. Then final popular acceptance of the fact established as indisputable Delaware's right to glory it the "still hunt" of all still hunts, the one in-

The story of how it came that the Delaware Legislature-elect is Republican will read like a romance when it shall be told fully. It is the story of the rule of the Bayards in Delaware; the rise of three farmer lads of the name of Saulsbury to dispute the older dynasty's proprietorship; concession, and finally leagues between the two families, whereby the State was divided as into two pasture lots, one each for the grazing of respective flocks; the development of a show of rebellion among sections of the faithful, mutterings prefacing threats and silent disaffections growing quickly in-to open rebellion; and now fends spread far and wide, until the peace stipulations of over a score of years ago are sent flying, while a Bayard contingent captures the whole State's party machinery, only to find the Saulabury cohorts solid and stolid, and bent on destruction all around.

James L. Walcott, the foremost Democratic lawyer in Kent county, was aforetime within the

Saulsbury fold, as the pasture lot combine twixt

Bayards chose to keep and maintain (to be kept and to be maintained) the votes and voters of the State's northern county of New Castle, with its city of Wilmington pat-ronage; the Saulsbury prize was composed of the rest of the State, the two thern counties of Kent and Sussex. Mr. Walcott, as a Kent county man, was thus a Saulsbury chattel. But somehow he got dangerously heterodox awhile ago and set up a mathine of his own independent of the Saulsburys. defiant of the o, indeed. He was in the race for the United States Senate to succeed Eli Saulsbury. There was no concealment of his ambition. He had friends; they multiplied. His aggressiveness made an impression up in New Castie, and the cohorts of the Bayard camp were force "in giving him a quiet encourage ment that was soon a common fame. The alliance had no disturbing influence in say Sanisbury direction, however. 80 far as one-ide observation could discern. There was a .. im notificati in, however, sent to New Castle that some fine day there would be repentar , among the promise-breakers. The primaries to choose delegates to legislative nominating conventions brought astonishing results about this time, however, in the form of a wholesale capture of the Kent county delegates by the Walcott-Bayard combine. The Saulsburys, outgeneraled, had but three districts on their side; and even these they were deprived of by a formal vote of the rest of the convention to force voting and nominations under a unit rule. The districts that were Saulsbury's were thus appropriated. The Saulsburys came out of the convention despoiled even their small pickings, but, small as then pickings were, they were of consequence enoug) to have given the Legislature to the Saulsburys thro : 7's possible combinations with holding-over Kent members and the delegation of Susser county. Thus the re-election of Senator Eli Saulsbury was quite assured, and the defeat of Mr. Walcott no less sure than if the whole Legisla were unanimously Saulzbury. The foreing of the third rule broke a beautiful plac all to flinders. The Sacisbury day was over; so said people who did not apperciate the stuff that Saulsburys are made of. There was instant revolt Out of the conven tion they walked, openly proclaiming vengeance. All of a sudden it was an-nonneed that the Republicans of Kent would put a legislative ticket in the field to contest the Walcott ticket, a fact that under other circumstances would have had the sound of humor in it; but the understanding was abroad that back of this Republican ticket would, in due time, be found the force and cleverness of Saulsbury campaigning. The Republicans protested all innocence of combines-and went ahead. They nominated, too, a Sussex ticket. Here the Democratic factional fight was not waging, and why they should be wasteful enough of energy to go exploiting in that fruitless field was a conundrum that lots of wise people laughed over r.ct altogether mod-"Of course, we don't expect to elect our Sus-sex ticket," so ran the Republican contession,

"but it is good policy to go through the form, we think, just to keep up party form and party spirits." Democrats laughed some more and went their way-so they believed, and so they bet-to elect their men in every county. And James L. Walcott was soon used to the popular salutation of Senator. It developed quickly. though, that the Sauisbury bolt, was really of size, and it became at once an open secret that the Saulsbury strength, cast solid for the Republican ticket, was pretty sure to take the Kent delegation away from the unit rule erowd and defeat Walcott through votes cast by Republicans for Eli Sanlabary's re-election. The Republican ticket in Sussex went its way, scoffed at in every byway. Not a public meeting was held to support it. Why even the form of such foolishness nobody could surmise. Came Tuesday. Sure enough the Saulsburys knifed the Walcott ticket and it went under. the Republican delegation going in without a break. Suddenly, though, came a startling item from Sussex county, too. Sussex was Republican also. That meant a Republican majority in the Legislature. Sure enough the Saulsburys had disposed of the Walcott boom. Also, though, Uncle Eli. They had been trapped. over-reached, done for. The Republicans caught them napping. Samson But, suggested amiable shorn. and ingenuous gentlemen, the Republicans will stand by Senator Saulstury and re-elect him of course. That was the understanding. Otherwise pot one Kent Republican could have been chosen Some people—people who in other affairs have been credited with sanity—even believed in this millennium-believed in it, and telegraphed its probability to New York and to Washington, stirring up politicians of high degree mightily. Their vernal souls can have an awakening. Delaware's next United States Sonator is going to be a Republican, sure. There are a dozen names mentioned as likely to get in the way of the lightning. One who towers above all the rest and who can have the high office if he will but take it, is the venerable Nathaniel B. Smithers, of Dover, and he is in no hufry to decide.

A Scheme to Reverse the Result.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 10 .- An evening special from Dover to-day reports a Democratic movement to contest the election of A. B. Richardson, the Kent county Republican State Senator-elect. On the face of the returns Mr, Richardson has a plurality of 133 over his Democratic competitor, Dan. W. Ridgely Such a contest would be passed on by the Democratic State Senate. The grounds laid are three-the hold ing of the election in districts where there were no Democratic judges at the poils, fraudulent votes, and alleged illegality of the Saulsbury Republican combination ballots. Stress is laid on the latter ground. The wilform ballot law required the heading to harmonize were headed Democratic, but a majority of candidates thereon were Republicans. Protest was entered against them, and against the ostracism of Democratic election officers before and while the voting was in progress. The effect of the unseating of Richardson and the seating of Ridgely would be to make the Leg-islature a tie on joint ballot, and prevent the election by it of a United States Senator, thereby eventually placing the appointment of Senator Saulsbury's succassor in the hands of the Governor, who would, of course, be expected to name a Democrat.

THE DOUBTFUL STATES.

Latest Returns Report West Virginia Republican on President and Governor. WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 10 .- The figures of the two committees are getting very close together in this State. The chairman of the Democratic committee concedes less than 200 Domocratic majority on Fleming, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and thinks that Hubbard, the Republican candidate for Attorney-general may be elected. The Republican committee claims from 300 to 500 majority on Governor, and thinks the presidential ticket has also pulled through. There are still twelve counties either imperfectly or not at all heard from, and upon these and possible corrections in the others depends the result. The chances seem to be with the Republicans, especially for Governor. State Legislature with a work-The Democratic committee have reduced their estimates of 561 this morning to less than 200 this evening. Two Republicans have certainly been elected in the First and Fourth congressional districts, and McGinnis, (Rep.) is probably elected in the Third. There is more uncertainty among Republicans in regard to the Second. The latest dispatch from that district indicates re-election of Wilson, (Dem.), by 60 majority. His majority in 1884 was 1,529 and two years ago, 30.

In view of later returns from remote counties, Chairman Riley, of the Democratic committee, revises his figures and claims the State for Cleveland and Fleming by 800 to 900, and a Democratic majority of one on joint-ballot in the Legislature. The Republicans say their late figures only confirm their earlier estimates. The best figures on the amendment to State Constitution prohibiting sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors, say it is defeated by 40,000

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 10 .- The official vote of this (Kanawha) county gives majorities as follows: Harrison, 1.424; Goff (Rep.), for Governor, 1.511; McGinnis (Rep.), for Congress, 1,275; Morrison (Rep.), State Senator, 1,552. Returns show that the State ticket is very close, if not Republican. PITTSBURG, Nov. 10.—The Chronicle-Telegraph has dispatches from Wheeling, timed 2:30: P. M., stating that the State has gone for Harrison by 500 majority, and for Goif, for Governor, by 1,000 majority. The congressional situation is unchanged.

The Old Dominion. STAUNTON, Va., Nov. 10 .- Unofficial returns from: all counties of the Tenth district give Tucker, Democrat for Congress, 593 majority. Cleveland's majority Nebraska. OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 10 .- Official returns received from thirty-four counties in this State, which four years ago cast a fraction over half of the entire vote of Nebraska, give Harrison 56,089; Cleveland 39,677. The same counties four years are gave Blaine 39,476; Cleveland, 26,532. This indicates a Republican gain of 8,000 in the State and 30,000 plurality for Harrison, with an increase in the aggregate vote of Nebraska of 53,000 over that of four years ago. Governor Thayer's majority will be between 20,000 and 22,000.

Pennsylvania. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10 .- Official returns have now been received from sixty-three of sixty-seven counties in the State, and complete returns, though not official, have been received from the other four counties. A plurality for Harrison of 78,810 in the State is shown by these returns, and but a slight change is likely to be made by the official footings in the four counties not heard from.

New Hampshire. CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 10 .- Complete returns from all the towns and wards in the State give Harrison 45,728; Cleveland, 43,444; Fisk, 1,570. Harrison's plurality, 2,384. For Congress in the First district, Nute, Rep., 21,753; McKinney, Dem., 21,471; Knowles, Pro., 681. Nute's plurality, 282. In the Second district, Moore, Rep., 23,530; Mann, Dem., 22,518; Fletcher, Pro., 878. Moore's plurality, Oregon and Washington Territory. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10 .- Full returns from Ore gon have not yet been received, but sufficient figures are in to justify Harrison's majority in the State being estimated at not less than 7,500. The probabili-ties are that the majority will be swelled to 8,000. In Washington Territory John B. Allen's majority over Charles S. Voorhees Democrat, for Delegate to Congress, will be not less than 5,000.

Montans. ST. PAUL, Nov. 10 .- A Helena special says: "Latest returns from the Territory indicate that Carter, (Rep.), for Congress, has 4,700 majority, and the Legislature will stand: Council, eight Republicans, four Democrats; House, twenty Republicans, four Democrats. The total vote cannot be obtained yet, but it shows large increase over two years ago."

Another Congressman in North Carolina. RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 10 .- A News and Observer special from Newberne says that Simmons, Demoerat, candidate for Congress in the Second district, has been defeated by a majority of 671.

THE FIRE RECORD.

New York Manufactories Damaged, and Several Employes Injured. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- A fire in the manufactory of Cornell & Bingham, paper men, in Mission place, this morning, caused a damage to that firm of $20,000. Messrs. Benedict & Valentine, book-binders and printers, sustained a loss of $50,000, while the building was damaged to the extent of $3,000. The cause of the fire is unknown. As the fire was in a thickly populated district, three alarms were sent out. These brought the reserves from the Mulberry and Elizabeth-street police stations. There was a regular stampede on the part of the employes in the burning building. In the mad rush for the street several were injured. Among those sent to the Chambers-street Hospital were Wm. Tracey, suffering from severe contusions on the neck and legs: John Porter, severe scalp wounds; Frank McKee, scalp wounds; Timothy King, fractured arm; Wm. Myer, fractured arm. Phillip Meisberg, a printer, jumped from one of the windows. He sustained a broken leg and a severe scalp wound.

Other Fires. BRANDON, Wis., Nov. 10 .- Eight or nine buildings the business part of the village were swept away by fire early this morning. The total loss is somewhere between $10,000 and $60,000, with about onefourth insurance. The fire was of incendiary originthe third experience of the kind this year. The heaviest losers are Ferguson Brothers, $10,000, and Samuel Wainstock, general store, $13,000. The other losses run from $3,000 down into the hundreds. BRIGHTON, Mich., Nov. 10 .- The Appleton & asch blocks were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The losses, including those of the merchants whose stocks were burned aggregate $40,000, with

msurance of about $25,000. Echoes of the Harper Wheat Deal. CINCINNATI, Nov. 10 .- When the notorious wheat deal of E. L. Harper, of the Fidelity National, was in the throes of death. Harper sent Wilshire to Chicago with $600,000 in drafts, to be cashed at the American National Exchange Pank, at Chicago, That bank cashed $400,000 of them, but when presented to the banks upon which they were drawn payment was refused. The American Exchange National Bank, of hicago, presented its claim to receiver Armstrong, but he refused to pay it, on the ground that Harper had no funds to warrant the drafts he had made. Suit was then brought by the American Exchange Bank. and when Receiver Armstrong, in October, 1887, declared a dividend of 25 per cent. he set aside the money to pay this claim, but of course refused to pay it until the question was decided in court. The case has now been in hearing, for three days, before Judges Jackson and Sage, of the United States Court, and this afternoon, at the close of the arguments, they decided in favor of the claimant. The point of their decision was that the American Exchange National Bank did not in this case, exceed the scope of its powers and became an innocent purchaser of paper that was intrinsically worthless. The immediate result of this decision is that the receiver of the Fidelity Bank must pay to the American Exchange National Bank, of Chicago, $100,000, with interest from October, 1887; and the future result is that so far as the assets of the

Fidelity Bank and the liability of its stockholders

will suffice, the entire claim will be paid in full.

War to complete the location of the troops for the map of the battle of Chickamauga, arrived here tonight from Washington, with a considerable party of officers, who took part in that battle. They came upon an invitation to assist in the work of completing these maps. Among the officers work of completing these lines are: Gen. Absalom Baird of the army; Gens. John T. Wilder, Fred Vandere, J. S. Littleton, J. B. Turchin, H. V. Boynton, and Colonel Bailey, all of whom took ominent part in the battle. Gen. C. H. Grosvenor, John Beatty, Gates Thruston and others are expected o-morrow. Col. S. B. Moe, of Chattanooga, formerly of General Steadman's staff, is making arrangements for transporting the party to the field.

Men Killed by the Explosion. Sr. Louis, Nov. 10.-A special telegram from Pittsburg, Kan., gives the details of the horrible secident in shaft No. 2 of the Pittsburg and Cherokee, or Santa Fe Mining Company, at that place last night. The company had more orders than they could fill, and in their attempts to keep up they have been running an unusually large force of miners. Yesterday morning 164 men were lowered into the mine. .At noon the shots were fired all right, and later the miners descended for afternoon duty. At 5 o'clock they were ready to fire their shots again. The first shot had been fired, but before a man could be hoisted a terrible rumbling noise was heard above, and a black cloud of dirt and dust shot into the air from the mouth of the shaft, tearing away the tracks upon which the cages are hoisted and filling the shaft with debris. The explosion occurred on the east side, and is attributed to the inexperience of some of the new men Before the men outside could recover their senses one of the miners appeared at the air shaft, nearly suffocated. He was helped out and followed by others until a large number had escaped-how many is not known. There was plenty of help at hand, and hose at the top devoted their attention to rescuing their entombed companions. The fan-house, only slightly damaged, was first repaired, canvas being tacked over the holes that had to be closed. About 12 o'clock the fan-house was ready, and fresh air was pumped into the mine, driving back the poisonous gas and averting suffocation. Attention was then turned to repairing the eribbing so that the cages could be lowered. Men lowered into the shaft by rope and bucket could accomplish nothing. At 2 A. M. the cage was ready to descend, and the first rescuing party were lowered into the shaft. Owing to the bad air they could not remain long. On the first return of the cage it contained a number of uninjured but badlydemoralized men. The bottom of the shaft was badly damaged, and it was difficult to get at the dead. As found they were piled up together at the bottom, while the living and badly-wounded were hoisted to the top. At 4 A. M., five had been rescued, and at 1 P. M., four more were brought out alive. At this time they struck an entry containing twelve more dead, and at this time-2 P. M.-there are twenty-five dead and nine wounded, with twenty-five missing, who are supposed to be dead. A large number of the killed are French and Italian miners. Following

The casualities are now placed at fifty-two dead and eight injured. The coroner's inquest will be held to-morrow. LATER-A special telegram from Cherokee says ninety bodies have been recovered from the mine, and it is believed there are still forty-six

The principal difficulty in ascertaining the names of the victims lies in the fact that there were a large number of new men who were not known to the Pittsburg people, and many may never be identified. Among the injured in the temporary hospital are: Robert Richards, family at Danville, O .; John Moreland, family in England; Thomas Corbett, family in England; Thomas Longcoke, Frank Leigh, Henry Rung.
Another special says: 'The developments of yesterday have only added to the horror in No.

The citizens of Girard and Pittsburg responded nobly to the call for assistance and every citizen n the latter city offered his services for the unfortunate victims in the mine disaster. During the long and dreary night thousands of men, women and children througed about the main shaft waiting anxiously for some tidings of the condition of the men buried beneath in the cloud of sulphurous smoke and suffocating gas. Now and then some poor woman who learned that her husband was among the victims would break the stillness of the night by a heartrending wail of sorrow that melted the strongest hearts with pity. The resening party did noble work during the and when morning came night, willing hands came to their Throughout the entire day the great cage which had been repaired, made regular trips bringing to the top of the shaft the mangled and torn bodies of the unfortunate miners. Up to a late hour this evening thirty-four bodies had been recovered, the most of them so badly bruised and burned as to be unrecognizable by either friends or relatives."

Four Miners Injured at Boston, Pa. SCOTT HAVEN, Pa., Nov. 10 .- By an explosion of fire-damp in Brown & Son's coal mine, near Boston, Pa., this afternoon, four miners were severely injured, one fatally.

THE ROCHESTER DISASTER.

Twelve Men Known to Be Dead, and the List Constantly Increasing. ROCHESTER, Nov. 10 .- Last evening's fire was the worst that ever occurred in this city. At least twelve lives were lost and twenty injured. The pecuniary loss will amount to $250,-000. The alarm was sounded at 7:30, and the department was soon at the scene. At that time little fire could be seen from outside. The building was approachable only on one side, and the firemen had only a narrow alley to work in. The building stood on the edge of the upper falls of the Genesce river. These falls are ninety six feet high. When the firemen arrived the windows on the street side of the building were filled with men calling for help. There were sixty-five men inside. Firemen answered them, telling them not to jump, that they would be rescued. The men paid no attention to the encouraging cries, and soon the air was filled with falling human bodies. At least twenty men jumped from the third story. All of them were more or less injured. They were at once taken to the hospitals. Four of them died of injuries before they could be removed. Their names were: JOHN GALL, foreman of the works.

JOSEPH DOUSER JOSEPH WERBER HENRY SNYDER.

C. A. OCHS. There are twenty-one missing men. It is supposed that all the missing men are dead and in the ruius. It was reported at 10 A. M. that ten more bodies had been found in the ruins. The names of missing and wounded were given in last night's dispatches. Three more bodies have been taken from the ruins. They were burned to a crisp, so that it was impossible to recognize

The walls will be torn down to-day and a large force of men set to work to-morrow to look for the dead in the ruins. The Union and Advertiser this morning started a subscription list for the benefit of the fire sufferers with $100. In an hour $1,200 had been subscribed. The Republicans, who intended to have a parade in honor of Harrison, have decided not to have it, but to donate the amount such a celebration would cost to the sufferers. Several men who won election bets have offered their winnings for the benefit of the injured and the families of the

The total of dead bodies now recovered is nine. The walls have been leveled with dynamite and the search is going forward night and day.

DEATH IN THE STORM

Heavy Snow-Fall in Eastern Canada-Fears of Loss of Life Among Fishermen. QUEBEC, Nov. 10 .- A snow-storm and gale, which in severity has seen few equals here, even Renowned for a quarter of a century | in winter, set in Thursday night and continued | laying hens.

until last evening. It extended over the whole of Quebec and the maritime provinces. Dispatches from Lower Quebec say that two and a half feet of snow has fallen along the lower St. Lawrence, and that serious fears are entertained that there has been a large loss of life among the fishermen on both shores of the gulf. At I'Islet, forty-three miles below Quebec, the snow-storm was reported so thick that the lighthouse at that point could not be seen fifty feet away, and the signals could be heard. A gale of wind was blowing all night, and continued yesterday, the waves washing clear over the island and endangering the structure. At river Du Loup and Farther Point it is said that a fleet of vessels are anchored, among them the Liverpool steamer Sardinian. At Matane a lumber-laden schooner is ashore, and her crew were in the rigging all night. They were rescued yesterday, badly frost bitten. One of them cannot survive. At Cape Magdalene the Beaver-line steamer Lake Ontario, for Liverpool, was reported as passing with two of her boats gone. It was snowing heavily and a sea was on that almost buried the steamer. The steamer Polma, attempting to run up the northern branch of the Sauguenay, was compelled to put into Trinity bay, where she dragged her anchors and went ashore on the rocks. The captain is reported drowned. It is known that a large number of fishing boats were below Anticosti Tuesday. but none of them have been heard of since. I is impossible that they all can have escaped. The steamer Montreal left here for Montreal, Thursday night, with two passengers on board She has not been heard of since, although the passage usually takes eleven hours. She may have struck on some of the rocks in the blinding snow-storm or been in a collision. She usually stops at Sorel and Three Rivers. She has been at neither of these places. From Rimouski, the last gulf station of the International railway, there comes a story that a fishing-smack with three men aboard had been lost. No names or particulars are given. Telegraph wires are down, trains are delayed by the snow and communication with the gulf signal station is practically impossible. The government light-house tender Napoleon was sent out last evening to patrol the coast and succor wrecked vessels. It is feared that there will be a fearful tale to tell of the loss of life among the gulf fishermen. Fatal Railway Accidents.

CHICAGO. Nov. 10.—Richard Hyles, a car-repairer, was killed, and Geo. Mitchell, a fellow-workman, was crushed this afternoon. The men were at work on a side-track, when an engine backed down, striking a string of cars, and causing them to run over on the workmen.

NEWARK, O., Nov. 10 .- A collision occurred yesterday on the Baltimore & Ohio, near Claypool, resulting in the killing of engineers John Doyle and Andrew Dennison and the demolition of both engines and fourteen freight cars. The collision was caused by conflicting orders given by operators. WHITEBEAR, Minn., Nov. 10 .- A south-bound St. Paul & Duluth freight train broke in two, yesterd three miles above here, and the rear section crashed into the forward portion. The shock overturned the caboose stove and the car caught fire. Conductor Burke, of Minneapolis, was pinned in the wreck and burned to death. CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Father James Cullen, a for-mer professor of Mount St. Mary's College, Baltimore, was run over by a train on the Western Indiana railroad, in this city, to-day, and fatally injured. He was eighty-four years old, and failed to notice the aproaching engine. Father Cullen achieved considerable note in his day as an author and translator of ecclesiastical works.

Business Embarrassments.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 10 .- Executions for $21 050 were issued this morning against Joseph Ostheim, a wholesale grocer of this city. His liabilities will reach $30,000. The assets are not large. CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- The sheriff to-day closed the store of Geo. E. Ayres & Co., dealers in suits and cloaks, at 19 State street. Assets of upwards of $40,. 000 were seized. Neither the cause of the failure or amounts of creditors could be learned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- The Johnson Railroad-signal Company, of Rahway, N. J., whose New York of fice is at No. 280 Broadway, is in trouble. C. H. Jackson, of Pittsburg, has obtained two attachments of $2,500 each, against the president, Charles R. Johnson, and another for $4,000 has been obtained by the Union Switch and Signal Company, of Pittsburg. A writ for blue prints and drawings, valued at $7,500, was also issued at the instance of the Union Switch and Signal Company. It is reported that other suits are to be started by the same company and other creditors against Mr. Johnson and his company. The Union Switch and Signal Company has for many years done most of the interlocking switching and railway signaling of the country, its president being George Westinghouse. jr.

Denver People Swindled.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 10 .- The Denver builders and lumbermen are much worked up over a clever swindle perpetrated upon them by Alonzo Weibel, who recently came here from Englewood, a Chicago suburb. He brought such excellent letters of recommendation that he had little difficulty in obtaining the best of credit, and he quickly worked up a good business. Last Saturday Weibel confected nearly $8,000 on unfinished buildings, and took his departure, leaving behind unpaid bills amounting to $3,500. He got away so hastily that a valuable house, filled with costly fur niture, was left behind. This has been almost entirely pillaged by his unpaid laborers. Weibel, with all his cunning, was musble to deceive a plasterer named Carson. The latter found him and his wite, very near midnight, on board a train en route for Los Angeles. At the muzzle of a pistol he demanded the $3.55 due him, whereupon Weibel's wife repaired to the ladies' toilet-room, disrobed and produced the eash. She had the entire amount of her husband's Company, located about three and a stealings concealed upon her person. Weibel has been traced to Los Angeles.

Hon. W. H. Barnum Likely to Die. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 10 .- A special from lime Rock, Conn., at 2 P. M., says: Hon. Wm. H. Barnum, chairman of the Democratic national com-mittee, who arrived home last Monday, was too much prostrated to vote on Tuesday, since which time he has been growing steadily worse, until 2 o'clock this morning, when it was thought death was near. Those able to judge say the chances are very much against his recovery, and the villagers, one and all, are wearing sad faces. Dr. Delafield, of New York, who arrived here at noon, pronounces Mr. Barnum as very dangerously ill.

NEW HAVEN. Conn., Nov. 10 .- A telephone com-munication just received by the Union from Lime Rock says that ex-Senator Barnum is resting easier, and that his condition is slightly improved. The rally, however, does not give his family much hope, and the fear is expressed at this hour (9 P. M.) that he will not survive the night

PITTSBURG, Nov. 10 .- The first anniversary of the langing of the Chicago Anarchists was celebrated at Lafayette Hall, in this city, to-night, by the Pittsburg sympathizers of the dead men. The hall was packed with a mixed assemblage, but good order was maintained. Albert Curwinn, of Chicago, made an inflammatory address in German, in which he denounced the police and spoke of the dead Anarchists as martyrs. "Their death," he said, "should be regarded as a vic-tory and not as a defeat." The services concluded with a drama written by August Spies, entitled 'The Nihilist." The performance was in German and the actors principally local talent.

REPUBLICAN JUBILATION. Brazil Expresses Its Satisfaction Over the Result by Painting the Sky Red.

Special to the Indiauapolis Journes. BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 10.-Brazil is astir, tonight, with the biggest jollification in her history. Monday night had been selected for the event, but the rolling-mill and furnace men concluded to jollify night. At 2 P. M. whistles were blown, beils rung and anvils fired. Everybody guessed the meaning. Main street was soon filled with bonfires, processions of Republicans with tin horns, small bells, cornet bands and every conceivable device for noise, fire-works painting the sky red, all in a deep mud, and a cold, drizzling rain added to the confusion. The jollification was without order, and it was too big and too spontaneous for organization. On one corner a Scotchman was seen making delightful music with a bagpipe; on another corner boys rasped a rail across a large, deep box, producing the growl of the British lion. Out of 1,400 voter, Brazil gave Harrison nearly 400 majority, consequently, she has a right to rejoice.

Carroll County Enthusiasm. special to the Indianapolis Journal. DELPHI, Nov. 10 .- The Republicans of this county absolutely refuse to quit jollifying. They commenced last Thursday night, and their shouts and the noise of their horns continue to resound, day and night. This afternoon they came from all over the county, fairly took the town. A notable feature of the pro-cession was the ex-Union soldiers, 500 strong. The court house was packed when speaking commenced, and hundreds of people were unable to gain admission. Addresses were delivered by Judge Suit, of Frankfort, and Judge Gould, Charles B. Lendis, A. E. Davison and Patrick O'Donnell, of this city. The enthusiasm was unbounded. To night the city is illuminated with a score of bonfires, and everybody is out. It is the closing act in the most wonderful campaign this county ever saw.

Trophies of the Victory.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TILDEN, Nov. 10 .- The Republicans and Demo crats, of this place, each erected a pole, and floated to the breezes the stars and stripes, at the beginning of the campaign. The poles and flags were both to be given to the victorious party. Last night, in spite of mud and the inclement weather, the Republicans met. and, in the midst of the firing of anvils, blowing of tin horns, and shouts, hauled down the Democratic fing and hoisted it just below the colors of the Republicans. They then felled the hickory pole, amid the greatest applause. Many chips and pieces were carried away as relics, to be retained as trophies of the victory of the Republican party in 1888, in electing Benjamin Harrison President. The captured flag will be presented by a committee, in the near future, to the next President of the United States.

Honors for Chairman Huston.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal CONNERSVILLE, Nov. 10 .- The Republicans of this city and county are making arrangements for a grand ratification to take place here on Monday next, at which time the Hon. James N. Huston is to return t his home in this city, and he may expect such a welcome and ovation as was never accorded to any man in this county for the grand and noble work which he has done for Republicanism in this State and the Nation, and where he is held in universal esteem. Other good speakers are also expected on that occasion. Afternoon and evening parades, fire-works and other features are expected to make this the grandest celebration that ever occurred in eastern Indiana.

At Marshall, Ill.

Special to the Indiapapolis Journes. MARSHALL, Nov. 10 .- The Republicans here fairly went wild over the victory of last Tuesday, and to night the enthusiasm found vent in a grand joilification. In spite of the dismal weather hundreds of people came in from the country, and by 6 o'clock the streets were crowded. A huge bonfire was built and there was a fine display of fire-works. A procession of jubilant Republicans, led by the Marshall Band, paraded the streets, yelling and blowing horns. A number of the banners used by the Democrats in last Saturday's rally were secured, and these were carried in the procession heavily draped in black. Among the ludicrous features were two transparencies reading as follows: "Free Whiskey," "Strong as Old Crow and No Stronger," "Weak as Old Crow and No Weaker," and "The figures that they longed for never came." Notwithstanding the large crowd, there were no disturbances of any kind, everybody being good-natured, even the Democrats.

At Shelbyville. Special to the Indianapelis Journal SHELBYVILLE, Nov. 10 .- This city has put on her gayest colors to-night, and turned the people loose in honor of the election of General Harrison to the presidency. All afternoon processions paraded the streets, coming in fron the out-townships. To-night the streets are thronged with people cheering and making all kinds of noise, and otherwise giving vent to their happiness over a Republican victory. Nearly every Republ can house in the city was decorated and illuminated, while on the public square a display of fire-works was witnessed by thousands. The 7:25 train from Indianapolis brought down Attorney-general Michener and Hon. Stanton J. Peelle, who were escorted to the opera hall and addressed a large crowd. Mr. Michener was given a royal welcome from his neighbors and friends here, his home, who have stood by him manfully in several hard political fights. At Elkhart. Special to the Indiananolis Journal hat it was raining, and that it had rained constantly for three days and nights, it did not prevent the Republicans of Elkhart from coming out to-night and jollifying in a manner without precedent here. Led by bands the procession, which was one of the largest ever seen in the city, marched in several inches of mud, carrying transparencies, flags and horns, while the noise was deafening. The cartoons were remarkably appropriate. There was a long line of horse-men, several bundred foot soldiers, a voters' club, about a hundred young boys with flags, banners and horns, besides various displays. The decorations about the city were very fine, though the display would have been much greater but for the rain

At Franklin.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKLIN, Nov. 10 .- The greatest ratification meeting ever held in Johnson county was participated in by twenty thousand people here last night. Bands, drum corps and glee clubs from different parts of the county came in, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon a procession, several squares i length, moved through the principal streets. A drenching rain fell continually, but failed to dampen the arder of the enthusiastic Republicans. At night an elegant display of fire-works was made from tops of buildings and floats in the streets.

MARION, Nov. 10 .- The Republicans of Grant county are in the midst of a great jollification this evening, over the recent great triumph. The town is brilliantly illuminated and decorated; there is a prodigal discharge of fireworks, and the turmoil of bells, tin horns, martial and brass bands is deafening. A procession is moving through a mortar-bed of mud. and a drizzling rain is falling, but the attendance is immense and the enthusiasm unquenchable.

PERU, Nov. 10 .- The four days' jollification over Harrison's election closed to-day with a magnificent demonstration, and although there has been a continuous downpour of rain all day the streets have been a surging mass of enthusiastic Republicans. Everything capable of producing a noise was brought into requisition, making day and night hideous. The evening's demonstration embraced a large torch-light pa-

county. On the morning after the election T. E. Bowles, a Republican farmer, came to this city with a load of apples to sell. When he heard the news that Harrison was elected he was wild with joy, and gave his apples away to the crowd. He drove down main street throwing apples to the people as he went. This created quite a commotion in the crowd, and two Democrats got till night. One vote was cast in this city which would take a wise man to determine the political faith of the voter. Belva Lockwood was named for President and Cleveland for Vice-president; electors-at-large, Ben Harrison and D. W. Voorhees: presidential electors, the present Congressmen from the thirteen districts, and the Democratic State ticket and the Republican county

In Ripley township there is a man who is not exactly right in his mind, but who claims to be a Republican. The Democrate made up a scheme to secure his vote or keep him from voting. On Tuesday a Democratic committeeman went to see him, who had a Newfoundland dog. This dog surely knew a Democrat, because he at once entertained the visiting Democrat in an unexpected manner. The dog chased the man to the woods, and before he could get up a tree his clothes were torn from his back by the dog. The barking of the dog in the woods attracted attention, and some men went to see what was the matter with the dog. They found the man in the tree and his clothes on the ground. More ciothes were secured, and the Democrat went away and left the Republican to do as he chose On Tuesday morning a boy baby was born to

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bratton, at Crawfordsville, and after the election of Harrison he was named William Henry Harrison Tippecanos Bratton. Some persons have queer notions about scratching tickets. In Precinct 5, Union township, several tickets had the names Cleveland and Thurman pasted over those of Harrison and Morton, and the electors and balance of the ticket was Republican. In Sugar Creek township several tickets had the names of Harrison and Morton scratched off. On one Prohibition ticket one man was voted for two offices, and other tickets had pasters over the man's own name that was printed on the ticket. Then again, some of the electors were scratched off. The leaders of the Prohibition party seemed to take delight in insulting a minister who would not help the Democracy into power by voting for the Prohibition candidates. The leaders were very thoughtful and sent a ticket to Rev. G. W. Switzer, of the Methodist Church, and inclosed the following verse:

As well be dumb, And always mum, As pray with some: "Thy kingdom come," Then vote for rum.

On Tuesday Jas. Birchfield voted the Reputhunting, saying that for every rabbit he killed New York would give a thousand majority for Harrison. He returned in the evening with eleven, and now considers himself a prophet. Gilbert Blake, of Waveland, is having a house built without cost to him, the result of the election of Harrison. The carpenters are Democrats and agreed to build his house for nothing if Harrison was elected, and if Cleveland was elected they were to receive $3 per day for their work.

The "Extraordinary" Mr. Brookshire. special to the Indianapolis Journal

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Nov. 10.-Elijah Voorhees

Brookshire, the newly-elested Democratic Con-

Crawfordsville. He was born in Montgomery county, and is about thirty-five years old. He claims to be thoroughly versed upon the tariff reform, which he has made a study for years. He has championed the Mills bill all summer, and will probably introduce a bill of his own into Congress. He claims to be the D. W. Voorhees of the future, and says that he is an "extraordinary" man. He was named for D. W. Voorhees, because Voorhees happened to be at his father's house the night of his birth. The babe was shown to D. W. Voorhees, who took him in his arms and prognosticated that he would be a great man. This settled the great future of the young Brockshire, and of course he was named after Daniel. If D. W. Voorhees had not been present on that particular night, and held the babe in his arms, the Democracy would not now have had their "extraordinary" Congressman. Brookshire always tells his hearers that his wife considers him an "extra-ordinary" man, and that he believes it himself. He has told this so often that Brookshire has been given the name of "The Extraordinary Man." Everybody knows who is meant if the "extraordinary man" is spoken of. No doubt he will tell about his "extraordinary" ability in Congress. It can be said to the credit of Mr. Brookshire that he will not drink whiky. This fact was made public by an incident which occurred in Terre Haute, before the Democratic nominating convention. It happened that all the candidates for the congressional race met there at a horse-race. One of them proposed a drink, and they went to a saloon, and all ordered the best of whisky, except Mr. Brookshire, who said that he would take "pop." The others looked at Brookshire in amazement, but he drank his "pop," and never said a word. It was then said that Brookshire would never make a Congressman, and now it will remain to be seen what kind of a Congressman a popdrinker will be. It may be this fact that has reduced the Democratic majority in Sullivan county from 1,969 in 1886 to 1,451 this year—a loss of 518. In Montgomery county Brookshire received 7 less votes than Cleveland, and 17 less than Matson, and was defeated by Jim Johnston by 261 majority. In Union township, including Crawfordsville, where Mr. Brookshire lives, he received 363 votes less than Johnston, his opponent. In the same township he received 20 mors votes than Matson.

special to the Indianapolis Journa. BRAZIL, Nov. 10.-Clay county increased her vote for Harrison by 43 over that for Blaine. ELKHART, Nov. 10 .- Notwithstanding the fact | Blaine polled the full Republican vote here, but voting population, with additions from the Democratic ranks. Hawkins's marshals kept the Republican majority down. But for them the county would have gone Republican, and Johnston would have been returned to Congress. There was a posse of these sluggers in almost, if not quite, every precinct in the county. Republican voters were challenged by the scores. Many arrests were made and there was much intimidation. In Brezil the scheme did not succeed. Here the marshals got a hearty reception and were routed, while their commissions were shown to be fraudulent. The indignation developed here was very bitter, and Marshal Hawkins came near being responsible for a disturbance of a serious character. The Republican central committee, Dr. J. C.

Gifford chairman, aided by Republicans generally, made a gallant fight. Republican gains were everywhere made, and Democratic county officers were elected by meager majorities, one being as low as 9. Indiana was the battle-field, and Clay county, with its large labor population and numerous floaters, was an important position in that field.

Illegal Arrests at Wabash.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Nov. 10 .- Last night United States Commissioner Alvin Taylor discharged Lindsay Adams. the last one of the Republicans arrested here on election day by deputy marshals, charged with illegal voting. The prosecutions have all been shams, and there were not the slightest grounds on which to make the charges stick. The deputies are heartily ashamed of their dirty work, which was done at the dictation of the dough-faced Democratic leaders here.

Mexicans Trying to Steal Territory. EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 10 .- The Mayor and City Council of El Paso took action, last night, which is calculated to lead to important diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Mexico. In an official communication to the City Council, Mayor Lightbody stated that Mexican engineers, acting under authority of the Mexican government, were constructing embankments opposite El Paso, ostensibly to pro-tect the Mexican bank of the Rio Grande, which embankments, he believed, would cause the river to damage the American bank. Moreover, he believed the Mexicans had already extended one of these embankments across the boundary, and were now working on American soil. He preed that immediate action should be taken to stop the work, by force, if neces-sary. The Council decided that the Mayor should telegraph the facts to Governor Ross, and a message was sent stating that the work is being prosecuted with the intention of changing the channel of the river. "Unless the work is at once arrested." says the message, "not only will the frontier be artificially changed, but serious injury will be inflicted on Texas land-owners. What do you advise me to do in order to protect the territory of the State and of the United States! The urgency of the case will hardly allow the delay necessary to obtain redress by the ordinary diplomatic channels."

The Yellow Fever in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 10 .- There were thirtythree new cases of yellow fever for the twanty-four hours ending at 6 P. M. to-day, and five deaths. Total cases to date, 4,469; total deaths, 384.
